THE AMERICAS

Brazil Peaberry, Dattera Estate

From Dattera Estate, this coffee is a blend of varieties that produce a mellow, nutty coffee that has very low acidity. 'Peaberry' refers to a single small seed that develops in the coffee fruit instead of the usual two seeds. When the coffee is sorted for size for milling, the smallest screen beans, including the peaberries, are in the final separation. Peaberries are found naturally in about 5% of coffee cherries.

Tasting Notes: Rich, smooth, & full-bodied.

Guatemala Antigua

This coffee comes to us from small-holder producers in the Antigua Valley of Guatemala - the oldest and best-known coffee-growing region in the country. The Antigua valley is called "Panchoy" ("large lagoon"), a name from the indigenous Cachiquel tribe. The valley is encircled by three volcanoes: "Agua", "Fuego" and "Acatenango". Thanks to the rich volcanic soils, altitude, plentiful rain and sun, and consistent temperatures the beautiful valley enjoys, conditions there are quite ideal for growing a large amount of high-quality Arabica beans. We could drink this balanced, smooth coffee all day!

Tasting Notes: Floral, bright, and citrusy. Silky smooth.

Guatemala Buena Esperanza

A floral, juicy coffee with notes of cocoa - brought to us by producer Noe Castillo. This coffee was grown on his family's 6.5 hectare farm, five hours through the mountains from the city of Huehuetenango in the west of Guatemala - an area known for producing the most distinguished Guatemalan coffees. Noe's mother worked for Finca Buena Esperanza for more than 40 years. Currently, all of Noe's brother's work on the farm. They strive to use organic products to fertilize their crops, and are always working hard to improve their shade trees patios and drying times. We're proud to bring you their work in creating the best quality micro-lots.

Tasting Notes: Floral, juicy, cocoa.

Costa Rica Zingerman's Grand Reserve, Hacienda Miramonte

This is a really special coffee from Costa Rica's Hacienda Miramonte. Reserved exclusively for Zingerman's Coffee Company, this lot is the result of many years of collaboration between the Zingerman's Coffee Company and Hacienda Miramonte. Managing Partner Steve Mangigian worked very closely with the folks at the farm to produce this coffee, overseeing the processing, milling, and final sorting.

Tasting Notes: Wonderfully balanced with notes of caramel and citrus.

Colombia, Cosurca

Empresa Cooperativa del Sur del Cauca (COSURCA) is composed of 15 farmer associations and coffee cooperatives from four municipalities in Cauca, a mountainous province of Southwestern Colombia. Founded in 1993, COSURCA's 1,090 members have a strong organization and financial stability as a result of Fair Trade.

Tasting Notes: Smooth body with nice brightness, and notes of citrus and caramel.

Espresso Blend #1, Dattera Estate

Our Espresso Blend #1 defies many conventions in the coffee world. It comes from a single farm, but is a sophisticated blend of different coffee plant varieties and processing methods. This 'blend' is the result of our ongoing, decade long relationship with Dattera Estate, starting on the farm's cupping table.

Tasting Notes: Velvety body, subtly sweet, super rich.

French Roast

This classic dark style of roasting is surprisingly difficult to do well. We use Central or South American beans with a robust natural acidity - this bean serves delicious as a French Roast as it keeps its regional character while still being able to take a lot of heat.

Tasting Notes: Full-bodied and really rich - our darkest roast!

Detroit St. Decaf

Named after the location of the original Zingerman's business, the Zingerman's Deli! Our goal for a decaffeinated coffee was simply to have a coffee that would taste as good as unprocessed coffee, and that would make a great espresso. Detroit Street Decaf has always been a Central American coffee or a blend of Central Americans.

Tasting Notes: A full-bodied blend of Central American beans.

AFRICA

Ethiopia Harrar

This lot from Harrar is a “natural” or “dry” processed coffee, meaning that the fruit flesh of the coffee cherry was left attached to the bean as it dried. Natural processed coffees, and this one in particular, have intense fruit characteristics. We love the rich blueberry flavors in this coffee, and we can't stop thinking about how good a cup would taste alongside a slice of pie. Tasting Notes: Complex and fruity, with a distinct blueberry note.

ASIA/PACIFIC

Myanmar

Coffee was first introduced to Myanmar (formerly, Burma) in 1885 by British colonists. Investments in milling and education have brought about the birth of a true specialty coffee business in the country. This coffee is a blend from several estates in Myanmar, primarily Greenland and Blue Mountain estates. Tasting Notes: Smooth, creamy, and full-bodied with hints of orange.

Papua New Guinea, Apo & Angra Cooperatives

About 85% of coffee from Papua New Guinea is grown by small-holder farmers whose plots are scattered over demanding and sometimes treacherous terrain. Tasting Notes: Nutty and complex with a cocoa-like finish.

Sumatra Mandheling

We love Sumatran coffees for their rich, earthy qualities and we think no coffee roaster is complete without one. The ‘wet hulling’ processing method used for this coffee produces an intriguing and complex brew, offering something new sip after sip. Tasting Notes: Full-bodied, earthy, and wild.

BLENDS

Roadhouse Joe

Created for Chef Alex Young at Zingerman's Roadhouse, this very special blend is the outcome of months of collaboration and tasting. Designed to complement food, it emphasizes body and balance over sharpness and acidity. Tasting Notes: Smooth as silk, and served daily at Zingerman's Roadhouse.

Mokha Java

Our spin on a classic combination of light-roasted African coffee combined with a dark-roasted Indonesian. We blend Ethiopian with Sumatran and Papua New Guinea coffee to produce a blend that balances fruitiness against dark, earthy undertones. Tasting Notes: Dark and earthy with hints of blueberry.

Honduras Pablo Paz

A few of us visited Honduras in February 2015 to learn more about the coffee produced around the municipality of La Union, a town about 12,000 in the western part of the country. The highlight of the trip was meeting Pablo Paz, a producer in one of the villages nestled in the mountains around La Union. Pablo comes from a family of growers who have produced quality coffee for decades—long before many folks in the specialty coffee world were paying a premium for high quality beans or taking trips to remote areas of the world to source rare and distinct micro-lots. This is the fifth year we have purchased Pablo's coffee and we continue to be inspired by his commitment to quality. Coffee plays an important role in Pablo's life on multiple levels. No doubt, it is his livelihood. But coffee is also a source of pride and a means of connecting to his village and to his history. And yet, Pablo has seen the final product of his efforts—a bag of roasted coffee—on only a few occasions. When we met Pablo, we presented him with a sample of his coffee, brewed it, and drank a cup together. He liked it. And for a few minutes, the world felt exceptionally small.

Tasting Notes: Cocoa-like body with flavors of caramel and almond.
